

Communication Tips For a Diverse Workforce

If you look around at your coworkers, you may notice the workforce has become more diverse. At first you may feel uncomfortable around someone who seems different from you. Here are some tips to keep the lines of communication open:

Remember that everyone wants to be treated as individuals and judged on their own merits.

Try not to think in terms of "us" and "them." This will lead to tension and resentment.

If you are evaluating a coworker's job performance, make sure you focus on what they do, not who they are.

Remember that this is a chance for you to learn and expand your experience!
